GOOD MAN PASSES AWAY

Edmund L. Davison, Former Editor of News-
 Leader Dies

The people of this community were considerably shocked when on last Friday it was announced that Mr. Edmund L. Davison was not expected to survive the day, for while he had been in failing health for several years, he was seen on the streets of Springfield on the afternoon preceding his death. But while hoping against hope that he might survive this spell, as he had several other severe ones in the past, their worst fears were confirmed when at three o'clock in the afternoon he peacefully sank to sleep. Mr. Davison was born August 19, 1866 in Springfield. He was a son of Edmund L. Davison Sr., and Annie Sullivant Davison, and is the last of that honored pioneer family at this place. The greater part of his life was spent in the newspaper business. Immediately after leaving school he was employed on the editorial staff of the Louisville Post and continued there for three years when he became Editor of the Pineville Messenger and continued to edit it until January 1st, 1896 when he bought the plant of the Springfield News-Leader; and

EDMUND L. DAVISON

presided over its destinies until the Spring of 1909, when failing health compelled him to retire.
 As an editor he was successful and conducted his paper along conservative lines. In 1895 he was married to Miss Ada Suttor. Mr. Davison was a gentleman by breeding and education and his whole life and career exemplified the highest characteristics of Kentucky manhood. He was a christian gentleman, pure in character, just and honorable, gentle and sympathetic as a good woman, unobtrusive, simple mannered and modest always, yet whose manly heart was ever moved to its depths in sympathy

Re-union of Blue and Gray

The annual reunion of the Blue and Gray was held on the church to the Gravel Chorus, again sung by the choir. The church was tastefully decorated with ferns and potted plants.
 Four large columns had been erected at the altar, which combined with the electric lights made a very pleasing effect.
 Miss Carrie Long, of St. Louis was the maid of honor and Mr.
 Frank Curtis was best man.
 Messrs Jack and Will McChord were attendants and Messrs Jo Claybrook, Will Wharton and John S. McElroy, Jr. were ushers.

 terested in the Barley Tobacco spective precincts on next Saturday for the election of a President, Chairman, and a meeting of the precinct chairmen so elected will be held at the Court House on Saturday, October 1st, for the election of a county Chairman. Good attendance at each precinct is urged as the matter is of great importance to those interested in the pooling movement.

with whom suffering and afflic-tion. This was testified to by the universal respect in which he was held in the community in which he was born and reared, and passed the greater part of his life. Fortunate in his marriage. The life of his good wife and himself in devotion to one another and harmony of effort was an ideal one, and an honor to the marriage relation and a beneficent example. The faithful wife stood by him devotedly to the last, a sustaining, strengthening and encouraging him in all his trials and afflictions.
 When realizing that the end was near, with a clear vision of true christian faith, he was enabled to see the shining shore of the other side, and realized that his eternal destiny was secure, saying that he had had ample time to prepare; and was prepared, and that his only regret was that he had to leave his faithful wife the sharer of his joys and sorrows.

Fierce Electrical Storm

One of the worst electrical storms in the history of the county visited us on last Sunday and Monday. Late Sunday afternoon distant rumblings were heard, which in the distance and when scarcely audible so disturbed the elements as to jar the window panes and cause the doors of houses to rattle. The lightning was the worst ever seen here one bolt being followed by another. The storm lasting all Sunday night and most of the day Monday.

The large stock barn of Mr.
 Merritt Foster, near Williamsburg was struck and burned with all the contents. The loss being $3,500 with $700 insurance. The barn of Mr. C. C. Pinkston near Cardwell was also struck and burned, the loss being $300 with $175 insurance. The houses of Mrs. Marion Brady, Mr. Lawrence Walker and Dr. John Deboe and a barn on the farm of Mr. J. A. Bouliware were struck and slightly damaged. It was demonstrated Monday morning in this city that lightning does not always strike the highest point, as a wheelbarrow between the house of Mrs. Mollie Pope and the house of her son was struck and torn to splinters.

McChord-Williams.

A wedding of more than ordinary interest to the people of the county, owing to the prominence of the contracting parties, was that of Rev. W. H. Williams to Miss Annie McChord which was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the Presbyterian church. The bride was prettily attired in a white crepe-de-chene dress made over white tulle, and wore a white hat with blue ostrich feathers and carried a large bouquet of brides roses tied with Tulle.

At 4:30 the bridal party entered the church and proceeded to the altar where Rev. R. E. C.
 Lawson stood awaiting them beneath a large wedding bell. Mrs.
 C. F. Bosley and Miss Sue Ray played a musical programme from 4 to 4:30. The Bridal Chorus from L. Hengrin was given by the Presbyterian church choir as the bridal party entered the church, and Mrs. Bosley and Miss Ray played "A Study in Symbols" during the ceremony.

Died at Newport.

The Lexington Herald of September 17, contained the following:

News was received here yesterday that Mr. Thomas Grant Moss, who was at one time city editor of The Lexington Press during the editorship of Colonel H. T. Doncast, died suddenly last Wednesday morning of paralysis of the brain, while on a visit to friends in Newport, Ky.

Mr. Moss has been connected with the San Antonio, Texas, newspapers for several years, where he was held in high esteem by the newspaper fraternity.

Mr. Moss was born in Camp Nelson, Jessamine county, at the close of the war. He was educated at Georgetown College, when Dr. Dudley was president of that seat of learning.

The body will rest in a vault in the Newport cemetery for several days in order that his brothers and sisters may arrive from their distant homes. Due notice will be given when the interment takes place in the family lot in the Lexington cemetery.

Mr. Moss was a brother of Mr.
 H. M. Moss, of this place.
